ABSTRACT

This report is a compilation of what I learnt and did during my industrial training program at Wera sub-county which is a government entity under Amuria district local government from 28th February to 06th May, 2022. This was designated by Busitema University, Faculty of Agriculture and animal Sciences Arapai Campus with an intension of building the capacity of the students pursuing different programs in practical skills related to their areas of specialization in various fields of agriculture in comparison with theoretical knowledge acquired from class as well as serving as a partial requirement for the award of a Diploma in Animal Production and Management.

This report is made up of four chapters. Chapter one majorly talks about the introduction which gives the sub-county's background, department of attachment, location, organization structure, ownership, sector of operation, beneficiaries, goals and objectives. Chapter two which discusses the activities which I myself did and executed under the supervision of my field supervisor AAHO Mr. Odeke Stephen Engoru, description of the tasks performed in the working days and other activities I attended in the sub-county like the sub-county planning meeting. Chapter three which consists of the impacts of the various attachments to me as a student which are; the skills gained, responsibilities undertaken, how the activities performed will influence my future, correlation of the activities performed with class room knowledge and the challenges faced during the training. Chapter four which gives the conclusions and recommendations to both the University and the Sub-county. And lastly appendices and references.

1.0 CHAPTER ONE.

1.1 Introduction.

This chapter basically explains the location, background, objectives, mission, vision and the organization structure of the sub-county.

1.2 Location of the Wera sub-county.

Wera sub-county is located in Amuria district, Eastern region Teso sub-region and its bordered by Katakwi district from the East, Soroti district from the North.

1.3 Background of Wera sub-county.

Wera sub-county is a government owned entity under the local government of Amuria district consisting of four parishes initially i.e. Amolo, Angole, Sugur and Wera with thirty two villages initially. It covers a total area of 220.4 square kilometers with a total population of about twenty nine thousand seven hundred people as of 2020 by UBOS.

1.4 Objectives of Wera sub-county.

- To strive towards attaining a socio-economic development by maintaining and enhancing the environmental quality and resource productivity on a long term basis to meet the needs of the current generation without compromising the future generation.
- To develop a demand driven, client oriented and agricultural led economy among the people.
- To promote sustainable use of natural resources to achieve increased food security and family income.

1.5 Mission of Wera sub-county.

To sustainably deliver holistic and integrated services to the people while working hand in hand with all the stake holders in order to foster equitable socio-economic development.

1.6 Vision of Wera sub-county.

A transformed society that is literate, healthy and socio-economically productive.

1.7 Organization structure of Wera sub-county.

Just like any other institution, Wera sub-county has an organizational structure flowing from top to bottom starting from the sub-county chief who's the in charge of the sub-county down to the cleaners with each department having its head like AAHO heading the production department and GISO heading the security department among others.
