CHAPTER ONE

INTRODUCTION

1.0 Introduction

This consists of the historical background of the farm, location, mission, vision, service offered, objectives of the farm, challenges faced by the farm, solution to the problems, future prospects, organizational structure of the farm and methodology used during the internship.

1.1 HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF THE FARM

This farm existed since 2014; however farming was at subsistence level, during Covid 19 lockdown, we developed the idea of starting commercial farming.

There was high demand for agricultural products, being in periurban, there were many youths around including our own children and relative we teamed up and started commercial farming as the farm rolled out many community members picked interest in learning what we were producing, they were of unique nature.

We then developed the idea of training other community members, schools, youths being periurban and small piece of land, the many enterprises feed in to each other complementarily
